

Christmas Moon

By
Bindhya Reddy Patnam (2nd Grade)

This is Rainflower and her little dog named snowball. She and snowball were making a snowman. Rainflower always thought how to get a Christmas tree to go to the Christmas moon festival, but her dad didn't have enough money. That's why he couldn't buy the Christmas tree. The people who have a Christmas tree can come to the Christmas moon festival. "Oh look" Rainflower said, that's dad". Snowball barked "arf arf arf". The snow was white as a crystal bay.

"Dad Rainflower shouted. Dad came to Rainflower and said "what"? Rainflower looked at her dad nervously and said c-can we buy a Christ-mas tree. Rainflower dad was very annoyed, because Rainflower told him to buy a Christmas tree every year. Just then, everything felt silent.

The wind stopped swirling and we stood like icy statue. Then Rainflower dad started to speak and he said, may be”. After that, Rainflower said “okay”. She was disappointed like a crunched paper.

Then, Rainflower dad started to roll snow. He made a big ball. Rainflower thought what her dad was making? Then, snowball started making a medium ball. Then, Rainflower rolled a small ball. Later, Rainflower dad took all of the balls. Finally, Rainflower asked “what are we making”? Then, Rainflower’s dad stacked them up in the order of big to small and he made a great big.....Snowman!!!

The Snowman had 2 eyes made-up of U shaped sticks. One carrot for nose and 7 coal pieces for the big smile. One hat and three buttons big to small, two sticks for hands and one cute and cozy scarf to warm the Snowman while he is outside in the chilly weather. "I'll call it Buddy" Rainflower said. Placing a red scarf that was fluffy as snow on Buddy.

It was starting to get dark and Rainflower's dad said "we better start to walk home", Rainflower nodded. She was sad. She would miss Buddy the Snowman. "I will see you again Buddy" Rainflower shouted as she waved to the little Snowman until he disappeared into the black and gray shadows. Rainflower saw nothing but scary black and gray shadows. She hoped that Buddy won't be destroyed.

When Rainflower got home she took off her shoes and put on her Pajamas. Then she laid on her bed and dreamed of Buddy her snowman. She dreamed of her and Buddy playing with snow, she and Buddy exploring around her back and front yard and dancing ect.

It was morning and Rainflower was shocked. She forgets about the Christmas moon festival and it was coming soon. It was on Christmas!!!! Rainflower asked her mom what to do. Her mother said "make a list". So Rainflower thought what things to do and she decided to sell paintings for $10.99. Rainflower said to her self "I'll start selling tomorrow".

The next day, Rainflower made a stand out of cardboard .She used a special hook to hang the pictures on the cardboard. Her, best friends bought some of her paintings. Rainflower waved to her best friends Leafdrop and Daphidile. Leafdrop had one ribbon and Daphidile had two ribbons. Daphidile bought a spring painting and Leafdrop bought a summer painting. Rainflower got enough money to buy a Christmas tree. She needed 20 dollars to buy a Christmas tree.

The next day Rainflower gave $ 20.00 to her mom and the rest went into her blue piggy bank. Rainflower's piggy bank was very fluffy. Rainflower's mom put the $ 20.00 into her purse. She said I am going to work and I will be here tomorrow. Rainflower said to her mom "ok", I will make decorations for the Christmas tree. Rainflower knew her mom was going to buy a Christmas tree because her mom was willing to go to the Christmas moon festival!

Unfortunately, Rainflower's mom entered the house with empty hands. Rainflower said "mom why didn't buy a Christmas tree". Rainflower's mom said "remember", I told you that I was going to work. Rainflower nodded and said "why did you come so early from work". I didn't finish any of my decorations for the Christmas tree and dad is there still in the office. "I wanted you to come because you earned the money and you need to pick the perfect Christmas tree", said Rainflower's mom. Rainflower wasn't only happy, but she was extremely happy that she can't get her "thank you" out of her mouth.

Then, Rainflower said “thanks” to her mom. Rainflower picked the most beautiful tree. It had the price tag, and the price was $ 20.00. It was the same amount that, she planned for buy the tree. “The tree is goanna be turned into a Christmas tree”. Rainflower said happily. She twirled and leaped and she circled around the tree singing songs that were Christmas themed. Then Rainflower’s mom bought the tree. Then, they put the tree on top of the car and tied it.

After that, Rainflower’s mom parked the car on the parking lot and they put away the tree in Drop-Off Trees store, while they were waiting for Rainflower’s dad to come to the moon festival. Rainflower and her mom caught snowflakes and build a snowman together. Then, Rainflower's dad came and he looked very excited and happy. Rainflower showed her dad where all of the baby fir leaves were growing.

Then, Rainflower's family rode on a super fast car and it took them to a place called Maswhip Hills where the moon is glowing so brightly as the sun and Rainflower was the first one to get of the car and she jumped very high and she almost felt like she touched the moon. Just then, Santa and his reindeers came and threw presents then he went away saying "HO! HO! HO!". "Bye Santa" Rainflower called "thank you". Rainflower loved her present and it was a Christmas hat!!!! That was the best Christmas ever in her whole life!!!
